| Binding: | Contemporary calf, gilt spine and gilt fillets, without lettering piece. |
| Provenance: | First edition in Arabic, together with the Latin text, of Rhazes' famous |
| | monograph on smallpox and measlesthe oldest description of variola and |
| | the masterpiece of Muslim medicineâ (Sarton). The work was written by |
| | Rhazes c. 910 and it is the only work of Rhazes to be printed in Arabicand is |
| | considered his most important works. (Garrison-Morton). This edition is very |
| | scarce, presumably having been printed in a limited edition, as was |
| | Channing's Albucasis (1778), of which only 350 copies were printed by the |
| | Oxford University Press. |
| Additional Information: | Little is known of John Channing beyond the fact that he was an apothecary. |
| | It is not known how he came to master Arabic. In the preface he speaks of |
| | Thomas Hunt, Professor of Hebrew and Arabic at Oxford, in terms of |
| | friendship and he displays an easy familiarity with widespread printed and |
| | manuscript sources. He refers to his translation of Albucasis as forthcoming, |
| | but it was incomplete when he died, and it was finished by John Uri, the |
| | Hungarian linguist who was cataloguing the oriental manuscripts at Oxford |
| | University. Printed on thick paper, occasional light spotting. Hinges and |
| | corners worn. Modern annotation within the frontispiece of book "Garrison- |
